MEET THE SPEAKERS

DR. JACLYN WILLIAMS

Jaclyn Williams joined Fuller Theological Seminary's faculty in 2022. Williams is an American Baptist-ordained minister and an Alliance of Baptists-endorsed chaplain. Additionally, she has worked professionally as an actor and trained in classical ballet. Today she views acting and dancing as hobbies, but she uses the skills she honed as a performing artist to enhance her pedagogical practice with students. She often speaks on the connections found between the process of craft as an artist and the process of discipleship as a follower of Christ. As a preacher, chaplain, educator and performing artist, Williams is always curious about what it means to holistically walk out a life of faith in all seasons. This curiosity fuels her time in research, practice and teaching. She views the opportunity to acknowledge and accompany students, colleagues and others as they follow their curiosities and convictions as an enormous gift.

DR. MARY GLENN

Mary Glenn joined Fuller's faculty in 2022. Dr. Glenn teaches courses in the School of Mission and Theology master's degree programs, where she serves as a lead faculty member for the MA in Justice and Advocacy cohort and the MDiv chaplaincy concentration. Through her work as a pastor, chaplain and educator, Glenn serves as a bridge-builder. Ordained nondenominationally, she has more than 20 years of youth/college/community pastoral experience. A lover of cities, particularly Los Angeles (where she calls home), she regularly leads urban immersions and Downtown LA city walks. She has served as a certified chaplain for more than two decades with three different agencies and as a law enforcement chaplain trainer, and holds a certification in Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM). She previously served as a national board member with the Christian Community Development Association (CCDA) and as a board member with Central City Community Outreach in Downtown Los Angeles/Skid Row. Glenn is a frequent speaker on suffering, trauma, the ministry of God's presence and God's shalom.
